The magic in gum is Bubble Yum.[®]

Try this magic trick with your next piece.

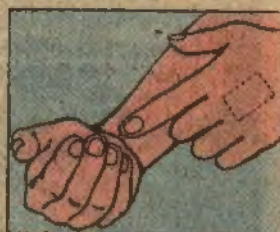

Hold the Bubble Yum between the thumb and middle finger of your left hand.

Pretend to grab it with your right hand while you really drop it into the palm of your left hand.

Keep the fingers of your right hand loose as if they had the gum.

Point with the left hand while you secretly hold the gum in your palm.

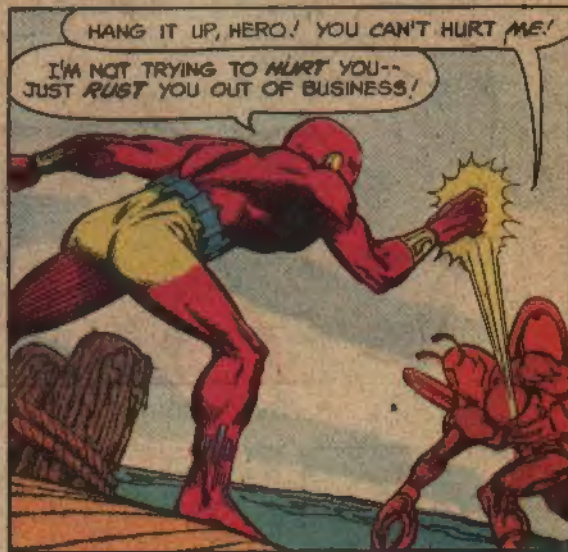

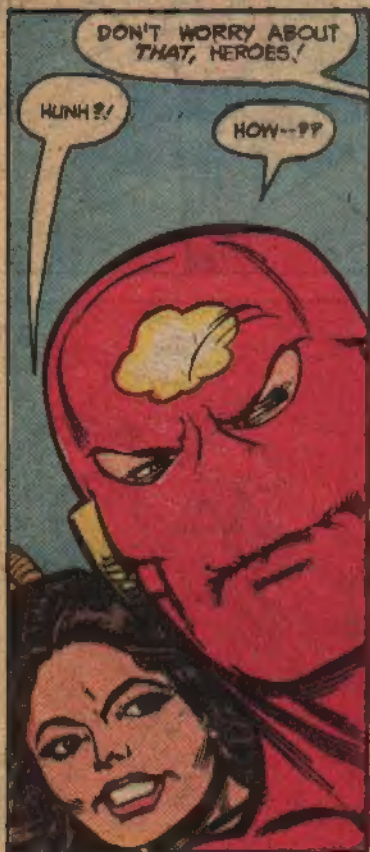

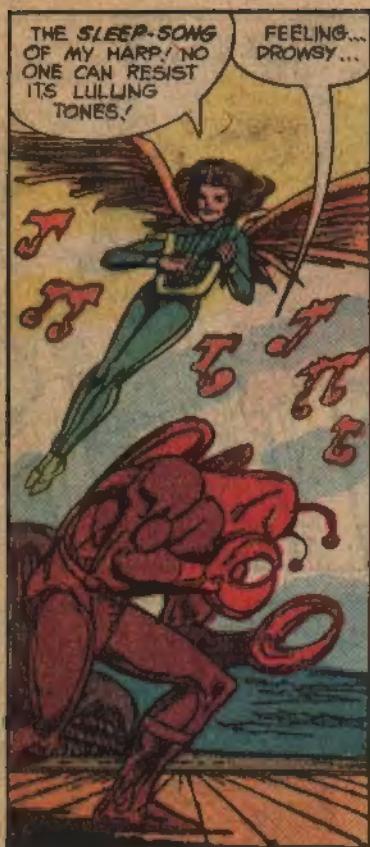

Say "Presto chango!" and open your right hand to show that the Bubble Yum has magically disappeared.

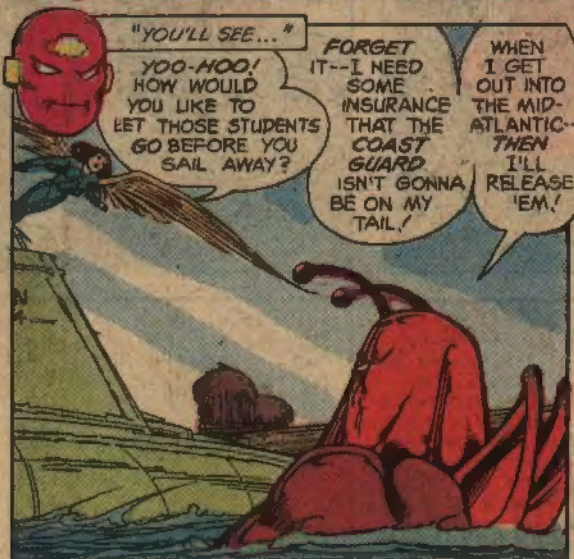

Then you can make the Bubble Yum disappear the easy way—and try the number one taste.

DIAL "L" FOR LETTERS

© DC COMICS, INC., 75 ROCKEFELLER PLAZA, NEW YORK, N.Y. 10019

Dear Sir

I really enjoyed issue #483 of Adventure Comics. Your comic series, Dial 'H' for Hero, is superb. Even though the stories are short, they are fast-paced and easygoing.

The art is fantastic. Combined with the dialogue, it makes for a very exciting story.

Harold S. Hayes
414 McCal Street
Tululah, LA 71282

(Thanks, Harold, for such a positive letter!—TOF)

Dear Gang,

Dial 'H' for Hero is great. But you have two problems that you don't seem to be aware of.

First problem: the costumes. I would like to see a full-size picture of the costumes. Most of the time, all we get is a glance of the costumes. I don't think I'm the only one who feels this way. Think of the creators. Did they create just half a costume? Of course not! They are probably thrilled that you used their creation, but they'd probably be even more pleased if you would use it all.

Second problem: the powers. You don't always explain what their powers are. Such as Grasshopper—does all she do is jump?

If you make these few changes, the book will be perfect!

Able Little,ohn
569 Woodlawn
Aurora, IL 60506

(Actually, Able, you've raised some valid points. We can assure you that Len will consider your suggestions. Thanks for letting us know what's on your mind.—TOF)

Dear Dialess

Well, now we're seeing a little more characterization in the cast of Dial 'H' for Hero. Chris King is learning that superheroing about and beating up on the bad guys isn't quite as much fun as it looks. He realizes there's a purpose to uphold and a reality to face.

Continuity-wise? Not bad there, either. The Gamee-Master used to work for The Joker. Good touch. King Faraday returns to the super-hero scene. Another good touch. Ever since his revival back in Batman #313, he's been a favorite of mine.

The rest of the characters? Zeep was good. So was Thumbelina. I sure would like to have seen what Tierra Star could do. Please, don't do the limit-some-heroes-to-one-panel bit often, as on page 10; it's not fair and it's not pleasing.

W debate is one fine vrain. These unmerciful types are the best. The heroes in the second tale were more visually striking.

All in all, I'm very excited about this new series! I only wish you could add more pages to the interior. 24 just isn't enough for such an excellent comic!

Chris Khalaf
5126 Georgi Ln
Houston, TX 77092

P.S. Thanks for adding Don Heck!

(Your wish is our command, Chris! As you can see, the comic you are reading now has three more interior pages! We give our readers their money's worth!—TOF)

Dear Editor

I didn't think this series could work because of the absence of any continuing hero, but by gosh, I'm totally and ecstatically wrong. I would applaud Merv, Len, and all the creative reader/suggesters if they were in front of me, right now.

Number 483 excelled. The outrageously lovable "Zeep" proved to Chris that not all of his transformations will make him omnipotent or even very masterful. Vicki's rôle as "Thumbelina" resembled Ray Palmer's as The Atom, but as "Echo", she really showed her stuff. Quite honestly, the "Echo" concept is inspired. It has all the strength required to uphold its own comic book. I'm not certain, but I think the power of energy-repelling has never been done anywhere before.

Not only is Dial 'H' for Hero working, it's succeeding beyond my wildest dreams. I send my heartiest congratulations.

Mark Lagasse
R.D. #1 Box 116
Hoosick Falls, NY 12090

(Dial 'H' for Hero is a success because of creative readers like you, Mark, who take time to share their thoughts with us. TOF)
